GARGANEGA

THE VENETIAN

Made in Northern Italy by Joe Grilli, our winemaker. Delicate aromas of white flowers, almond blossoms, and a touch of citrus.

TASTING NOTE

This dry white is fresh and expressive with aromas of white flowers, almond blossoms, and a touch of citrus.

The Venetian's crisp, floral finish makes it the perfect match for any seafood dish.

VINEYARD REGION

In collaboration with Italian enologist Giampaolo Chiettini, Joe sources Garganega fruit from a small family-owned vineyard in Monforte d'Alpone in the Soave Classico region, just outside Verona at the foot of the Italian Alps.

The grapes are grown on traditional pergola trellises, typical of the region

VINTAGE CONDITIONS

Heavy Spring rainfall led to good crops with heathy canopy. A hot, extended Summer produced grapes with greater intensity and aromatic concentration.

WINEMAKING

Joe says: "We use the same winemaking techniques that make our La Biondina in South Australia: long, slow, cold fermentation with our selected yeast strain which I bring over from Australia in my luggage!

This is followed by pristine handling of the final wine before early bottling under screwcap to ensure freshness."
